Growing Up WILD is an early childhood education program that builds on children’s sense of wonder about nature and invites them to explore wildlife and the world around them. Through a wide range of activities and experiences, Growing Up WILD provides an early foundation for developing positive impressions about the natural world and lifelong social and academic skills. Participants receive an activity guide with 27 field-tested, hands-on, nature based activities. Participants are eligible for Criteria I credit for the NC OEE Environmental Education Certification, CEU, and/or early childhood credit.
