

Entomology for Anglers - Virtual - February 9th, 2023

Start Date: 2/9/2023 6:00 PM

End Date: 2/9/2023 8:00 PM

There's a lot of flies out there. How do you pick the right one for the fish you're targeting? We'll tell you!

It's all about 'matching the hatch' – AKA, picking the fly that most accurately resembles the available food sources of that fish. Join us as we break it all down in our entomology course, which covers insect morphology, aquatic adaptations, collection techniques, specimen identification, the life history of the aquatic insects and the fly patterns that imitate them.

If you're interested in this class, we also encourage you to check out our 'Basic Fly-Tying Workshop' to learn how to tie the patterns discussed in this course. Check our calendar to see when the next workshop will be held.
