

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

As with any large, multi-year project, the preparation of our Plan involved the input and participation of a wide variety of individuals, including staff within multiple divisions of the Commission, as well as from other state and federal agencies, conservation organizations, private industry, and academia. We extend our warmest thanks to everyone who has contributed their knowledge, time, and energy in the development of the Plan; your dedication has improved the final product immeasurably.

This first iteration of our Comprehensive Wildlife Conservation Plan is only the most visible result of our multi-year planning efforts. Of even greater value are the inter-agency and organizational networks and communication bridges that were formed and strengthened through this effort. The ultimate test of our Plan will be measured through the success of its implementation and the strengthening of collaborative efforts and partnerships.
